

An aerial photograph of a highway interchange. A multi-lane highway runs diagonally from the top right towards the bottom left. It features an overpass structure. In the lower-left quadrant, there is a roundabout with several cars visible. The surrounding area includes some greenery and a building in the upper right. The overall image has a semi-transparent, faded appearance.

Les perspectives et l'intégration à l'environnement

